Introduction

The Visa Function

One of the important functions of the Foreign Service of the United States is the administration abroad of our immigration laws. Congress first charged consular officers with the responsibility of issuing visas to certain aliens in the Act of July 5, 1884. In 1917, a general requirement that all aliens seeking to enter the United States obtain visas was instituted and has been continued since that time under successive immigration laws. With certain exceptions, therefore, aliens desiring to come to the United States are required to obtain appropriate visas from U.S. consular officers stationed at some 230 Foreign Service posts throughout the world.

Although consular officers are directly responsible under the law for the issuance or refusal of visas, the Department of State is charged with the general administration of the functions vested in the Foreign Service by the immigration laws. In fulfilling this responsibility, the Department's Visa Office in the Bureau of Consular Affairs prepares regulations, which are published in the Federal Register; instructs consular officers regarding interpretations of law; establishes standardized procedures; provides on-the-spot guidance through regional conferences, workshops, and field trips; and furnishes advisory opinions concerning all phases of visa work. A review procedure is set in motion by consular requests for the Department's advice on material points of law, or when the Department requests a report from a consular post with a view to determining whether the action taken or proposed in a specific case is in accordance with the applicable provisions of the law. Although the vast majority of visas are issued at overseas posts, a few categories of nonimmigrant visas may be issued or renewed by the Diplomatic Liaison Division of the Visa Office.

For many people in foreign lands, the call at the American consular office is the first personal contact with the United States. A courteous reception by an American official and fair and reasonable attention to the application for a visa serve to create an atmosphere of goodwill and help to promote our foreign relations.

In recent years, successive Presidents have stressed the importance of facilitating international travel. The procedures for the issuance of visas to persons wishing to visit the United States have been kept as simple as possible; every effort is made to expedite the necessary action; and, in many cases, the personal appearance of the applicant is not required. Before a visa is issued, an applicant's written application is reviewed or the applicant is interviewed by a consular officer to determine eligibility for a visa appropriate to the purpose of the planned journey to the United States. If necessary, documentary evidence is requested to establish that the applicant intends to return to a residence abroad, does not come within any of the excludable classes, and has adequate financial resources for the proposed journey. To further facilitate the travel of nonimmigrants, visas are issued incorporating the most liberal provisions possible with respect to validity period and fees on the basis of reciprocity, that is, the treatment accorded by the applicant's country to U.S. citizens. Necessary clearance procedures are handled as expeditiously as possible.

Applicants who are entitled to one of the immigrant classifications and who are chargeable to an oversubscribed foreign state or category are registered on waiting lists, in the order in which they have qualified, to establish a priority for consideration when visa numbers become available. Non-preference applicants are accorded the date on which they have met the registration requirements of the Immigration and Nationality Act; by law the priority date for preference applicants is that on which the petition to establish a preference was filed with the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service primarily, the Public Health Service and the Department of Labor, and other agencies to a lesser extent, share in the administration of the immigration laws.

The jurisdictions of those agencies are complementary in most respects, and close liaison is maintained between and among them and the Department of State to ensure a uniform interpretation of the law and to coordinate practices. Officers of the Immigration and Naturalization Service are stationed at a number of Foreign Service posts abroad to carry out more effectively certain functions that come within the Service's area of responsibility.

In preparation for their visa duties abroad, consular officers take a visa services course at the Department of State's Foreign Service Institute as part of their basic Foreign Service training. Advanced consular training for experienced officers is also offered. A correspondence course in visa work is available for officers and clerical personnel assigned to overseas posts.

Summary

This Report of the Visa Office is a compilation of statistical data for Fiscal Year 1989 (October 1, 1988 – September 30, 1989).

The Report includes information on all visa issuances by consular offices and on the use of visa numbers in the numerically limited categories. The sources of information for the data are workload reports from visa-issuing offices abroad and immigrant visa number allocation records maintained in the Visa Office.

The Report shows visa services only and does not contain information on refugees or figures on adjustments to permanent resident status granted by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS).

When demand for preference immigrant numbers exceeds the annual limitation set by law for a foreign state (20,000) or dependent area (5,000), the area is considered oversubscribed. The following chargeabilities were oversubscribed during Fiscal Year 1989: CHINA-mainland born, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC, INDIA, KOREA, MEXICO, and the PHILIPPINES. Also oversubscribed was the British dependency of HONG KONG. During Fiscal Year 1989, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC, KOREA, MEXICO, PHILIPPINES, and HONG KONG chargeabilities were subject to the provisions of Section 202(e) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which makes preference numbers available to each preference category in accordance with specified percentages. (See Appendix A, Section II(B)(3) for percentage breakdown.) For oversubscribed areas not subject to the provisions of Section 202(e), numbers are made available in preference class order without regard to such percentages until the area limit is reached, after which no allocations are possible to any lower preferences.

Recent Immigration Legislation and Visa Workload

NP-5 Immigrant Visa Program

Section 315 of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 (P.L. 99-603, November 6, 1986) provided visa numbers for Fiscal Years 1987 and 1988 to nonpreference immigrants outside the 270,000 annual numerical limitation in Section 201(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA). Such visa numbers are to be first made available to applicants from areas the immigration of whose natives to the United States was "adversely affected" by P.L. 89-236 (the Act of October 3, 1965, which revised the basis of legal immigration to the United States), in the order in which they qualified for status after enactment of the 1986 Act.

Section 2 of the Immigration Amendments of 1988 (P.L. 100-658, November 15, 1988) extended this visa category through Fiscal Years 1989 and 1990, with 15,000 visa numbers provided for each of these years. NP-5 status remained limited to natives of the thirty-six chargeability areas listed below, to which visas were available during the first 2 years of the NP-5 program.

The Department of State resumed NP-5 case registration in response to P.L. 100-658. Mail requesting NP-5 status sent to the Department during the January 1987 application period was maintained in the order of receipt from the U.S. Postal Service and served as the sole basis for the additional registrations. Processing resumed with the next letter in line at the point where registration in 1987 was suspended.

The new NP-5 cases were forwarded to consular offices, which notified applicants of their registration.

OP-1 Immigrant Visa Program

Section 3 of the Immigration Amendments of 1988 (P.L. 100-658, November 15, 1988) provides 10,000 visas for each of Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991 to natives of "underrepresented countries," outside the 270,000 worldwide annual limitation set by Section 201(a) of the INA. An "underrepresented country" is defined in the 1988 legislation as a foreign state whose natives used, during Fiscal Year 1988, less than 25 percent of the maximum number of immigrant visas otherwise available to it under the 20,000 per-country limitation.

Natives of all countries, EXCEPT the following were eligible to participate in the OP-1 program: CHINA-mainland born and TAIWAN born, COLOMBIA, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC, EL SAL-VADOR, GUYANA, HAITI, INDIA, JAMAICA, KOREA, MEXICO, PHILIPPINES, and the UNITED KINGDOM (including British dependent areas).

Applications for OP-1 status were accepted by the Department of State from March 1, 1989, through March 31, 1989. During this period, 3,228,585 applications were received. In mid-May, a random selection of applicants for OP-1 status was made by computer from among the mail received. Selected cases were forwarded by the Department of State to the consular offices, which would process the visa applications. The consular posts notified the applicants and provided visa application information.

Visa Waiver Pilot Program

Section 313 of the Immigration and Reform and Control Act of 1986 established a visitor visa waiver pilot program for up to eight countries. The first phase of this program was implemented on July 1, 1988, to allow entry without a visa to British citizens with the right of abode in the United Kingdom who apply for admission as visitors for a stay of up to 90 days, subject to specified conditions.

The visitor visa waiver was inaugurated for citizens of Japan on December 15, 1988; for French and Swiss citizens on July 1, 1989; for citizens of the Federal Republic of Germany and Italy on July 15, 1989; and for the Netherlands and Sweden on July 29, 1989. The countries selected for this pilot program have a high volume of applicants for non-immigrant visas to the United States and a low rate of refusal of such applications. Also, each country allows American visitors to enter without visas.

A separate visitor visa waiver program, implementing the terms of Section 14 of the Omnibus Territories Act (P.L. 99-396), took effect on October 1, 1988. Under this program, citizens of 14 countries applying for admission to Guam as visitors for business or pleasure for a stay not to exceed 15 days may enter without a visa.

SAW Program

In response to shortages of agricultural workers for seasonal harvest in the United States, Congress created a new special agricultural worker (SAW) program as Section 210 of the Immigration and Nationality Act. The SAW program began on June 1, 1987, and expired on November 30, 1988, Fiscal Year 1989.

Vietnam Amerasians

Section 584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing and Related Program Appropriations Act, 1988 (as contained in Section 101(c) of P.L. 100-202, as amended by P.L. 100-167, November 21, 1989) created a new immigrant visa category for Amerasian immigrants who are issued an immigrant visa and depart from Vietnam during the period March 22, 1988, through September 30, 1990. This section of law accords status to an alien who, as of the date of enactment, is residing in Vietnam and who establishes to the satisfaction of a consular officer or an officer of the Immigration and Naturalization Service after a face-to-face interview, that the alien:

(A)(i) was born in Vietnam after January 1, 1962, and before January 1, 1976, and (ii) was fathered by a citizen of the United States (such an alien is referred to as a "principal alien");

(B) is the spouse or child of a principal alien and is accompanying, or following to join, the principal alien; or

(C) either (i) is the principal alien's natural mother (or is the spouse or child of such mother), or (ii) has acted in effect as the principal alien's mother, father, or next-of-kin (or is the spouse or child of such an alien), and is accompanying, or following to join, the principal alien.

Immigrant visas issued under this section of law are not subject to numerical limitation, and shall be valid for a period of 8 months. See Appendix B for the classification symbols to be used for immigrant visa issuance in the Vietnam Amerasian category.

Fiscal Years 1980-1989

Immigrant Visas

The total number of immigrant visas issued at offices abroad in Fiscal Year 1989 increased by 20,467 or 5.2% over Fiscal Year 1988. This is due largely to the increase in the NP-5 limitation as well as to a substantial rise in visa issuances in the Vietnam Amerasian immigrant category.

On a regional basis, the following variations are noted: Europe up 7,702 (+20.1%), Asia up 9,471 (+5.7%), Africa up 325 (+4.0%), North America down 3,242 (-2.2%), South America up 6,215 (+20.7%), and Oceania down 4 (-0.18%).

Immigrants from Asia represented 42% of the total visa issuances, with North America following with 35%.

Classes of Immigrants

Immigrants may be divided into two broad categories: Those who are in classes subject to numerical limitations and those in classes for which there are no numerical restrictions.

Immigrant Visas Issued at Offices Abroad
Fiscal Years 1985-1989

Classes Not Subject to Limitations

The classes not subject to numerical limitations include: "Immediate Relatives" of U.S. citizens, defined as spouse, child, orphan adopted or to be adopted, and parent (if the citizen is at least 21 years of age), and "Special Immigrants," primarily returning resident aliens, ministers of religion, certain former government employees, some categories of expatriates, and certain employees of international organizations and their family members. The Vietnam Amerasian Immigrant category also falls in this grouping.

The majority of visas in this nonlimited category are issued to immediate relatives. During Fiscal Year 1989, the total number of immediate relative visas issued at overseas posts decreased by 6,067 (-4%) to a total of 135,512.

Immediate Relative Visas Issued

Numerically Limited Classes

Panama Canal Act Special Immigrant Categories

The Panama Canal Act of 1979 (P.L. 96-70) provides for the admission of 15,000 former employees of the Panama Canal Company or Canal Zone Government, at an annual rate of no more than 5,000. The total visa number used in this category during Fiscal Year 1989 was 201. Six numbers were made available to the Immigration and Naturalization Service for adjustment cases during this fiscal year; the remainder were used for visa issuances abroad.

Since the beginning of issuances in this category in 1980 through the end of Fiscal Year 1989, the total numbers used have been 2,460.

Preference and Nonpreference Categories

Most immigrant visas are issued to persons in the preference classes subject to numerical limitation. A description of these classes can be found in Appendix A, Section II(B)(3).

For Fiscal Year 1989, all immigrant numbers within the annual limitation established by Section 201(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act were made available to applicants. Visa issuances at posts abroad represented approximately 90% of the numbers used, with the balance provided to the Immigration and Naturalization Service for adjustment of status cases in the United States.

As has been the case since the end of Fiscal Year 1978, the demand for visas by preference applicants was sufficiently heavy to make the non-preference category under the annual limitation of Section 201(a) of the INA unavailable. However, during Fiscal Year 1989 all of the 15,000 NP-5 nonpreference immigrant numbers were used.

Immigrant Visa Applicants Registered at Offices Abroad

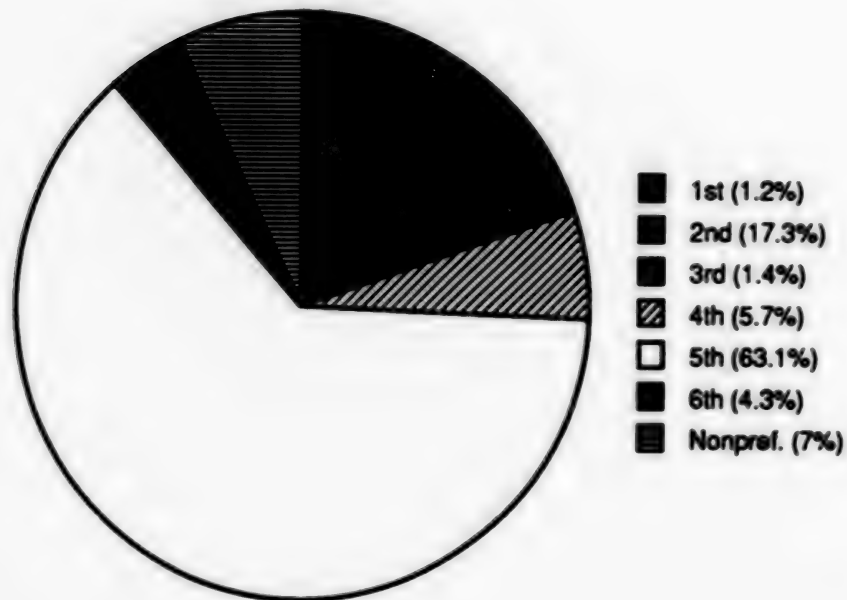

Once a year in January, all immigrant visa issuing offices abroad submit a report of registrants in the numerically limited classes. Total active registrants as of January 1989 were 2,328,479, an increase of 137,316 (+6.3%) over the 2,191,163 registrations reported in January 1988. Although all preference categories showed an increase, 69,348 of the additional applicants were concentrated in the fifth preference category.

Appendix E of this report shows a breakdown of registered demand by category and area of birth.

Nonimmigrant Visas

In Fiscal Year 1989, total nonimmigrant visa issuances at Foreign Service posts totaled close to 7 million, a 19% decrease over Fiscal Year 1988. The dramatic decrease in Fiscal Year 1989 is due to the Visitor Visa Waiver Program, which currently encompasses eight high-volume countries.

It should be noted that most nonimmigrant visas are valid for several years. The total of persons holding valid visas, therefore, is several times the figure for visas issued in any 1 year. The Department of State has made a conscious effort to authorize the maximum possible nonimmigrant visa validity for qualified applicants to reduce the need for frequent reapplication, thus helping to make worldwide nonimmigrant visa processing as efficient as possible.

Nonimmigrant visas issued to nationals of European countries equaled about 43% and visas issued to nationals of Asian countries equaled about 23%. Visitor (B) visas and Border Crossing Cards (BCCs) accounted for more than 86% of the nonimmigrant visas issued and student (F and M) visas for almost 3%. Visas issued to 10 nationalities (Mexico, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, West Germany, Japan, France, Australia, Brazil, Italy, Korea, and the Netherlands) accounted for about 50% of the total issuances.

Automation

The Bureau of Consular Affairs has over the past several years developed automated systems for immigrant and nonimmigrant case control and processing.

By the end of Fiscal Year 1989, immigrant visa operations had been automated at 34 posts, which accounted for 312,016 issuances, or 76% of the visas issued during the year.

Nonimmigrant processing at 50 posts benefited from automated case control by the end of 1989; these posts processed 3,872,367 visas, or 55% of the worldwide nonimmigrant issuances.

Changes in Visa Services at Foreign Service Posts

The following posts ended nonimmigrant visa services during Fiscal Year 1989: Consulate Bilbao, Spain on January 1, 1989; Consulate General, Genoa, Italy on May 1, 1989; Consulate General, Izmir, Turkey as of the end of September 1989. Visa services were also not available in Afghanistan on account of the temporary closing of Embassy Kabul.

Immigrant visa services ended at Embassy Conakry, Guinea during Fiscal Year 1989.

Limited visitor visa services began at the Consulate, Pusan, Korea on November 1, 1988. Limited nonimmigrant visa services began in Western Samoa also, with the opening of Embassy, Apia on November 15, 1988.

Above: After the establishment of the NP-5 visa program in 1987, immigrant visa issuances at the American Embassy in Dublin increased more than 1,000% and necessitated a move by the Consular Section to larger premises during 1989. The photo shows the new Consular waiting room. Below: The applicant processing area at the Embassy in Dublin. ¹ Section 11 of the Immigration and Nationality Act Amendments of 1986 (P.L. 99-653 enacted November 14, 1986) repealed the basis for Special Public Law issuances.

² Section 584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Program Appropriations Act, 1988 (as contained in Section 101(c) of P.L. 100-202, and as amended by P.L. 100-167, November 21, 1989) created a new immigrant visa category effective March 22, 1988, through September 30, 1990, for Vietnam Amerasian immigrants and their immediate family members.

⁴ Combination B-1/B-2 visitor visa/border crossing card (B1/B2/BCC) issued at posts in Mexico only; these are included in the "Visas issued" line.

⁵ For reasons of operational efficiency, almost all approved nonimmigrant visa applications have been processed as simple visas issued in recent years; effective November 29, 1987, the provision for nonimmigrant visa "revalidation" was eliminated from the regulations.

¹ P.L. 99-639 (Immigration Marriage Fraud Amendments of 1986) established a conditional immigration status for persons whose basis for immigration is a marriage of the petitioner, which was entered into less than 2 years prior to the applicant's admission to the United States as an immigrant.

² P.L. 99-603 authorized 5,000 nonpreference numbers for Fiscal Years 1987 and 1988, such numbers to be first made available to natives of countries that were adversely affected by P.L. 89-236 (The Act of October 3, 1965, which revised the basis of legal immigration to the United States); P.L. 100-658 extended this category and provided 15,000 numbers for Fiscal Years 1989 and 1990.

³ Includes one visa issued in accordance with a private bill.

⁵ P.L. 97-116 (Immigration and Nationality Act Amendments of 1981) provided for the granting of special immigrant status to certain foreign medical graduates and their accompanying spouses and children.

⁶ P.L. 99-603 (Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986) provided special immigrant status for certain officers and employees of international organizations and their immediate family members.

⁷ Visas issued pursuant to the Act of September 26, 1961, or the Act of October 24, 1962. P.L. 99-653 (Immigration and Nationality Act Amendments of 1986) enacted on November 14, 1986, repealed the basis for issuances in this category.

¹ The British dependency of Southern Rhodesia became the independent state of Zimbabwe on April 18, 1980.

² The British dependency of Brunei became the independent state of Brunei on January 1, 1984.

³ Section 714 of P.L. 97-113, the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981, provided a separate immigrant chargeability for CHINA-Taiwan born applicants, effective December 29, 1981.

⁴ Mongolia became a separate chargeability on January 27, 1987, when the United States established diplomatic relations with Mongolia.

⁵ The British/French dependency of New Hebrides became the independent state of Vanuatu on July 30, 1980.

⁶ The British dependency of Antigua became the independent state of Antigua and Barbuda on November 21, 1981.

⁷ The British dependency of Belize became the independent state of Belize on September 21, 1981.

⁸ The British dependency of St. Christopher-Nevis became the independent state of St. Kitts and Nevis on September 19, 1985.

⁹ The Netherlands dependency of Aruba was established as a dependent area separate from the Netherlands Antilles as of January 1, 1986.

¹⁰ In November 1986, three of the four political components that made up the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands assumed new political status and are no longer subject to the trusteeship agreement. The Republic of the Marshall Islands and the Federated States of Micronesia are now sovereign, self-governing states in free association with the United States, as such each became a separate chargeability for immigrant visa purposes. The Northern Marianas is now a Commonwealth in political union with the United States and thus a U.S. Territory. The chargeability of Pacific Islands Trust Territory continues to apply to Palau.

NOTE: This table does not include NP-5 nonpreference visas.

² Section 714 of P.L. 97-113, "The International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981," provided a separate immigrant chargeability for CHINA-Taiwan born applicants, effective December 29, 1981.

³ Mongolia became a separate chargeability on January 27, 1987, when the United States established diplomatic relations with Mongolia.

⁴ The British/French dependency of New Hebrides became the independent state of Vanuatu on July 30, 1980.

⁵ The British dependency of Antigua became the independent state of Antigua and Barbuda on November 1, 1981.

⁶ The British dependency of Belize became the independent state of Belize on September 21, 1981.

⁷ The British dependency of St. Christopher-Nevis became the independent state of St. Kitts and Nevis on September 19, 1983.

⁸ The Netherlands dependency of Aruba was established as a dependent area separate from the Netherlands Antilles as of January 1, 1986.

⁹ The Canal Zone chargeability ended in Fiscal Year 1980.

¹⁰ In November 1986, three of the four political components that made up the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands assumed new political status and are no longer subject to the trusteeship agreement. The Republic of the Marshall Islands and the Federated States of Micronesia are now sovereign, self-governing states in free association with the United States, and each became a separate chargeability for immigrant visa purposes. The Northern Marianas is now a Commonwealth in political union with the United States and thus a U.S. Territory. The chargeability of Pacific Islands Trust Territory continues to apply to Palau.

² The British dependency of Brunei became the independent state of Brunei on January 1, 1984.

³ Section 714 of P.L. 97-113, "The International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981," provided a separate immigrant chargeability for CHINA-Taiwan born applicants, effective Dec. 29, 1981.

⁴ Mongolia became a separate chargeability on January 27, 1987 when the United States established diplomatic relations with Mongolia.

⁵ The British/French dependency of New Hebrides became the independent state of Vanuatu on July 30, 1980.

⁶ The British dependency of Antigua became the independent state of Antigua and Barbuda on November 1, 1981.

⁷ The British dependency of Belize became the independent state of Belize on September 21, 1981.

⁸ The British dependency of St. Christopher-Nevis became the independent state of St. Kitts and Nevis on September 19, 1983.

⁹ The Netherlands dependency of Aruba was established as a dependent area separate from the Netherlands Antilles as of January 1, 1986.

¹⁰ The Canal Zone chargeability ended in Fiscal Year 1980.

¹¹ In November 1986, three of the four political components that made up the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands assumed new political status and are no longer subject to the trusteeship agreement. The Republic of Marshall Islands and the Federated States of Micronesia are now sovereign, self-governing states in free association with the United States, and each became a separate chargeability for immigrant visa purposes. The Northern Marianas is now a Commonwealth in political union with the United States and thus a U.S. Territory. The chargeability of Pacific Islands Trust Territory continues to apply to Palau.

² The British dependency of Brunei became the independent state of Brunei on January 1, 1984.

³ Section 714 of P.L. 97-113, "The International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981," provided a separate immigrant chargeability for CHINA-Taiwan born applicants, effective December 29, 1981.

⁴ Mongolia became a separate chargeability on January 27, 1987, when the United States established diplomatic relations with Mongolia.

⁵ The British/French dependency of New Hebrides became the independent state of Vanuatu on July 30, 1980.

⁶ The British dependency of Antigua became the independent state of Antigua and Barbuda on November 1, 1981.

⁷ The British dependency of Belize became the independent state of Belize on September 21, 1981.

⁸ The British dependency of St. Christopher-Nevis became the independent state of St. Kitts and Nevis on September 19, 1983.

⁹ The Netherlands dependency of Aruba was established as a dependent area separate from the Netherlands Antilles as of January 1, 1986.

¹⁰ The Canal Zone chargeability ended in Fiscal Year 1980.

¹¹ In November 1986, three of the four political components that made up the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands assumed new political status and are no longer subject to the trusteeship agreement. The Republic of the Marshall Islands and the Federated States of Micronesia are now sovereign, self-governing states in free association with the United States, and each became a separate chargeability for immigrant visa purposes. The Northern Marianas is now a Commonwealth in political union with the United States and thus a U.S. Territory. The chargeability of Pacific Islands Trust Territory continues to apply to Palau.

² The total ineligibilities overcome may not represent the same visa applicants found ineligible and recorded in the totals of ineligibility findings. A visa may be refused in one fiscal year and the refusal overcome in a subsequent fiscal year. Each action will be separately recorded as part of the appropriate statistical report for the year in which it occurred. A refusal can be overcome by evidence that the ineligibility does not apply, by approval of a waiver, or by other relief as provided by law.

³ N/A—Not applicable because the cited ground of ineligibility does not apply to nonimmigrants.

⁴ N/A—Not applicable because the cited ground of ineligibility does not apply to immigrants.

NOTE: The figures at the end of this table show totals of applications refused and refusals overcome. The total of applications refused does not necessarily reflect the number of persons refused during the year. One applicant can be found ineligible more than one time in a fiscal year.

The table also shows the total of ineligibility findings by consular officers under the various grounds of visa ineligibility, as well as the total of such findings overcome by waiver or other means. It is important to point out that the difference between the figures for ineligibility findings and such findings overcome under any one ground does NOT necessarily indicate the total of persons denied a visa solely under that ground. For example, an applicant may be found ineligible under Section 212(a)(2)(B) and Section 214(b), in such instance a waiver of the 212(a)(2)(B) finding could not be processed if the applicant would still be ineligible for a visa under Section 214(b).

Provisions of the Law and Numerical Limitations on Immigrant Visas

Some form of numerical limitation has been imposed on immigration into the United States since 1921, although certain classes of immigrants have traditionally been able to obtain visas outside these limitations. Outlined below are the basic elements of the system applicable in Fiscal Year 1989; unless otherwise stated, the section of law cited refers to the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended.

I. Classes not subject to the numerical limitations:

A. Immediate Relatives:

- (1) Spouse and children of U.S. citizens and parents of citizens at least 21 years of age; (Sec. 201(b)).

B. Special Immigrants:

- (1) Returning residents; (Sec. 101(a)(27)(A)).
- (2) Certain former U.S. citizens; (Sec. 101(a)(27)(B)).
- (3) Ministers of religion and the spouse and children of such immigrants; (Sec. 101(a)(27)(C)).
- (4) Certain employees or former employees of the U.S. Government abroad and the accompanying spouse and children of such immigrants; (Sec. 101(a)(27)(D)).
- (5) Special Immigrant Doctors: The Immigration and Nationality Act Amendments of 1981 (P.L. 97-116, Dec. 29, 1981) provide special immigrant status to certain medical doctors applying for adjustment of status in the U.S., and their accompanying spouses and children. While there is no numerical limit for this category, otherwise unused numbers under the limitations specified in Secs. 201(a) and 202(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act are assigned to these cases or the annual limitation for the subsequent year is reduced by an equivalent amount; (Sec. 101(a)(27)(H); Sec. 20 of P.L. 97-116).

- (6) Certain officers and employees of international organizations and their immediate family members; (Sec. 101(a)(27)(I), added by Sec. 312 of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, P.L. 99-603).

C. Vietnam Amerasian Immigrants:

Sec. 584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing and Related Program Appropriations Act, 1988 (as contained in Section 101(e) of P.L. 100-202, and as amended by P.L. 100-167, November 21, 1989) created a new immigrant visa category effective March 22, 1988 through September 30, 1990 for Vietnam Amerasian immigrants and their immediate family members.

II. Numerically limited classes:

A. Special Immigrant Categories:

- (1) Certain former employees of the Panama Canal Company or Canal Zone Government, up to a total of 15,000 immigrants, but no more than 5,000 in any fiscal year; (Sec. 101(a)(27)(E),(F) and (G)).

B. Preference/Nonpreference Categories:

- (1) Numerical limitations: 270,000 per annum (Sec. 201(a)); not more than 20,000 per foreign state, not more than 5,000 per dependent area (Sec. 202); otherwise unused numbers under the 270,000 limitation and the foreign state limitation are to be applied to special immigrant doctors [see I(B)(5) above] and to certain investors whose status is adjusted under Sec. 19 of the Immigration and Nationality Act Amendments of 1981, P.L. 97-116, or the annual limitation for the subsequent year is to be reduced by an equivalent amount.

- (2) As a selective mechanism to enable distribution of the numbers to the immigrants desired, a system of six preference classes exists: Four (1, 2, 4, and 5) based on relationship to U.S. citizens or resident aliens, two (3 and 6) based on need for labor; (Sec. 203).
 - (a) First preference: Unmarried sons and daughters of U.S. citizens: Not more than 20% of the overall annual limitation in any fiscal year.
 - (b) Second preference: Spouses and unmarried sons and daughters of aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence: 26% of the overall limitation, plus any not required for first preference.
 - (c) Third preference: Members of the professions and scientists and artists of exceptional ability: 10% of the overall limitation.
 - (d) Fourth preference: Married sons and daughters of U.S. citizens: 10% of the overall limitation, plus any not required for the first three preferences.
 - (e) Fifth preference: Brothers and sisters of U.S. citizens 21 years of age or over: 24% of the overall limitation, plus any not required for the first four preferences.
 - (f) Sixth preference: Skilled and unskilled workers in occupations for which labor is in short supply in the United States: 10% of the overall limitation.
 - (g) Nonpreference: Any applicant not entitled to one of the above preferences: Any numbers not required for preference applicants.
- (3) Preference system (percentages applied by Sec. 203 against the annual limitation in Sec. 201(a)):
 - (4) NP-5 Nonpreference: 15,000 nonpreference numbers are provided in each of Fiscal Years 1989 and 1990 outside the numerical limitation in Sec. 201(a) but subject to the per-country limitation in Sec. 202, such numbers to be first made available to natives of countries from which immigration to the United States was adversely affected by P.L. 89-236, the Act of Oct. 3, 1965, which revised the basis of legal immigration to the United States; (Sec. 314 of P.L. 99-603; Sec. 2 of P.L. 100-658).
 - (5) OP-1 visas for immigrants from underrepresented countries to enhance diversity in immigration: Sec. 3 of P.L. 100-658 provides 10,000 numbers in each of Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991, outside the numerical limitation in Sec. 201(a) but subject to the per-country limitation in Sec. 202, for natives of "underrepresented countries." Underrepresented country is defined in the law as a foreign state natives of which used, during Fiscal Year 1988, less than 25% of the maximum number of preference immigrant visa numbers available to it under Sec. 202(a) of the INA. These visas are to be made available strictly in a random order among applicants who qualify during an application period established by the Secretary of State; the application period was held in March 1989 and the random selection of applicants for this visa category took place shortly thereafter. Visa issuance in the OP-1 category begins October 1, 1989.
 - (6) Applicability of Sec. 212(a)(14), the labor certification requirement, is explicitly restricted to applicants within the 3rd, 6th, and nonpreference categories. Sec. 212(a)(14) does not apply to applicants in the NP-5 nonpreference nor the OP-1 categories, however. (Sec. 314 of P.L. 99-603; Sec. 3 of P.L. 100-658).

- (7) A spouse or child accompanying or following to join a preference or nonpreference applicant may be classified within the same category if a visa is not otherwise immediately available; (Sec. 203(a)(8)).
- (8) Immigrants who acquire permanent resident status under Sec. 244 and certain other provisions of law may also be chargeable to the numerical limitations of Secs. 201(a) and 202(a).

marriage of the petitioner which was entered into less than 24 months before such spouse or son or daughter is admitted to the United States as a permanent resident. To remove the conditional status, a petition must ordinarily be submitted to the Immigration and Naturalization Service by the alien and the petitioning spouse within 90 days preceding the second anniversary of conditional status; (Sec. 216).

III. Related Provisions:

- A. The Immigration Marriage Fraud Amendments of 1986 (P.L. 99-639, Nov. 10, 1986) amended the Immigration and Nationality Act to establish a conditional immigration status for A) an alien spouse of a United States citizen or of a lawful permanent resident and B) an alien son or daughter, whose basis for immigration is a

- B. Adjustment of status in the United States from nonimmigrant to that of a permanent resident may be obtained, subject to certain conditions, through the Immigration and Naturalization Service; (Sec. 245).
- C. Parents of resident aliens (not being entitled to a preference) are subject to Sec. 212(a)(14).

Appendix C

The Operation of the Immigrant Numerical Control System

The Department of State is responsible for administering the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) relating to the numerical limitations on immigrant visa issuances. This appendix explains the operation of the immigrant number allotment and control system.

How the System Operates

At the beginning of each month, the Visa Office (VO) receives a report from each consular post listing totals of documentarily qualified immigrant visa applicants in categories subject to numerical limitation. Cases are grouped by foreign state chargeability/preference/priority date. No names are reported. During the first week of each month, this documentarily qualified demand is tabulated.

VO subdivides the annual preference and foreign state limitations which are specified by the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) into 12 monthly allotments. The totals of documentarily qualified applicants reported to VO are compared each month with the numbers available for the next regular allotment and numbers allocated to reported applicants in order of their priority dates, the oldest dates first.

If there are sufficient numbers in a particular category to satisfy all reported documentarily qualified demand, the category is considered "current."

Whenever the total of documentarily qualified applicants in a category exceeds the supply of numbers available for allotment for the particular month, the category is considered to be "oversubscribed" and a visa availability cut-off date is established. The cut-off date is the priority date of the first documentarily qualified applicant who could not be accommodated for a visa number. Only persons with a priority date earlier than a cut-off date are entitled to allotment of a visa number. The cut-off dates are ordinarily the 1st, 8th, 15th, and 22nd of a month, since VO groups demand for numbers under these dates. (Priority dates of the first through seventh of a month are grouped under the 1st, the eighth through the fourteenth under the 8th, etc.) An exception is an oversubscribed dependent area, for which demand is not grouped but rather recorded by actual priority date.

By the second week of each month, cut-off dates are set for the following month. The dates, along with visa allotments for use during that month, are immediately transmitted to consular posts. The cut-off dates are simultaneously made public; VO has a recorded telephone message at (202) 647-0508 which is updated whenever new cut-off dates are set. This information is then published in VO's monthly Visa Availability Bulletin. (Requests for inclusion on the Visa Bulletin mailing list may be addressed to: Visa Bulletin, Visa Office, Department of State, Washington, D.C. 20522-0113).

Immigration and Naturalization Service offices request immigrant numbers for adjustment of status applicants in the categories subject to numerical limitation when their cases are ready for approval of permanent residence.

Definition Of Some Terms

Allotment: The allocation of an immigrant number to a consular office or to INS. This number may be used for visa issuance or adjustment of status, or may be returned unused to VO for reincorporation into the pool of numbers available for later allocation during the fiscal year.

Foreign State Chargeability: Ordinarily an immigrant is chargeable for visa purposes to the numerical limitation for the foreign state or dependent area in which the immigrant's place of birth is located. Exceptions are provided for a child (unmarried and under 21 years of age) or spouse accompanying or following to join a principal to prevent the separation of family members, as well as for an applicant born in the U.S. or in a foreign state of which neither parent was a native or resident. Alternate chargeability is desirable when the visa cut-off date for the foreign state of a parent or spouse is more advantageous than that of the applicant's foreign state. (INA Sec. 202; 22 CFR 42.12).

Documentarily Qualified: The applicant has obtained all documents specified by the consular officer as sufficient to meet the formal visa application requirements, and necessary processing procedures of the consular office have been completed.

Background Information on the System and Clarification of Some Frequently Misunderstood Points

Applicants entitled to immigrant status become documentarily qualified at their own initiative and convenience. By no means has every applicant with a priority date earlier than a prevailing cut-off date been processed for final visa action. On the contrary, visa allotments are made only on the basis of the total applicants reported documentarily qualified each month. Demand for visa numbers can fluctuate from one month to another, with the inevitable impact on cut-off dates.

If an applicant is reported documentarily qualified but allocation of a visa number is not possible because of a visa availability cut-off date, the demand is recorded at VO and an allocation is made as soon as the applicable cut-off date advances beyond the applicant's priority date. There is no need for such applicant to be reported a second time.

Visa numbers are always allotted for all documentarily qualified applicants with a priority date before the relevant cut-off date, as long as the case had been reported to VO in time to be included in the monthly calculation of visa availability. There is no exception to this principle. Failure of visa number receipt by the processing office could mean that the request was not dispatched in time to reach VO for the monthly allocation cycle, or that information on the request was incomplete or inaccurate (e.g., incorrect priority date).

Allocations outside the regular monthly cycle are possible in emergency or exceptional cases, but only at the request of the office processing the case. Note that should retrogression of a cut-off date be announced, extraordinary requests for additional numbers can be honored by VO only if the applicant's priority date is earlier than the retrogressed cut-off date.

Not all numbers allocated are actually used for visa issuance; some are returned to VO and are reincorporated into the pool of numbers available for later allocation during the fiscal year. The rate of return of unused numbers may fluctuate from month to month, just as demand may fluctuate. Lower returns mean fewer numbers available for subsequent reallocation. Fluctuations can cause cut-off date movement to slow, stop, or even regress. Retrogression is particularly possible near the end of the fiscal year as visa issuance approaches the annual limitations.

The 20,000 country limitation is a cap which visa issuances to any single country may not exceed.

Applicants compete for visas primarily on a worldwide basis. The country limitation serves to avoid monopolization of virtually all the annual limitation by applicants from only a few countries. The 20,000 limitation is not a quota to which any particular country is entitled, however. Clearly all countries could not receive 20,000 visas since the worldwide 270,000 annual limitation would not permit visa issuances anywhere close to such a total.

Applicability of Section 202(e): When visa demand by documentarily qualified applicants reaches a level sufficient to oversubscribe a foreign state or dependent area limitation, visas are initially made available to applicants subject to the affected limitation in order of preference category until the country limitation is reached. However, allocation prorating among all six preferences for an oversubscribed area is required by Section 202(e) of the INA whenever visas have been made available to that country limit during the preceding fiscal year. The prorating of numbers among the six preferences for an oversubscribed country follows the same percentages specified for the division of the worldwide annual limitation among the preferences. If thereafter the reported demand in one or more country preferences is insufficient for all numbers set aside for the preference under Section 202(e) to be made available and if there is no lower preference to which such numbers could fall under the terms of the law, the maximum number of visas would not then be made available to the particular oversubscribed country and the prorating scheme could not apply during the following allocation year. (Note that visa availability cut-off dates for oversubscribed areas cannot be later than worldwide cut-off dates, if any, for the respective preferences.)

If the full allotment of 20,000 visas cannot be made available to an oversubscribed country subject to the prorating provision in a fiscal year, then for the following year visa numbers are made available to that country strictly in preference order, and are not divided among the six preferences by fixed percentages. That is, all numbers under the country limitation would first be made available to documentarily qualified applicants in the first preference; any numbers not needed for that class would then be made available to second preference applicants, etc., until the country limit is reached. No visa numbers would be available for applicants in preferences below the class in which the country limit had been reached and visas in the lower preferences would, therefore, be "unavailable."

Thus, the availability of visas in each preference for every oversubscribed area cannot be taken for granted each year. A formal determination of the applicability of allocation prorating under Section 202(e) to an oversubscribed chargeability area is made by the Department of State each September prior to the allocation of numbers for the first month of the new fiscal year.

VO projections of future availability: From time to time VO provides projections based upon available data and expectations. Such projections — while reflecting anticipated developments — cannot be taken as a guarantee of future availability, however. Dates must be set each month based on reported demand and available numbers.

List of American Diplomatic and Consular Offices That Provide Visa Services (as of October 1989)

Unless otherwise indicated, American diplomatic and consular offices listed below issue both immigrant and nonimmigrant visas. The insertion of "NIV" after a diplomatic or consular office indicates that the particular office issues nonimmigrant visas only. Foreign Service posts which are not authorized to provide visa services are not listed. The type of visa services provided by a post is occasionally subject to change.

The following symbols are used to indicate the status of each office: (E) for Embassy; (CG) for Consulate General; (C) for Consulate; (M) for Mission; and (USINT) for U.S. Interests Section.

In conjunction with the U.S. Postal Service's system of 9-digit ZIP Codes, the Department of State has assigned a unique 4-digit number to each Foreign Service post. All mail sent through the Department's pouch system should add the 4-digit number to the ZIP Code 20521. For example, the pouch address for Algiers would be: Consular Section, Algiers, Department of State, Washington, D.C. 20521-6030. An alternative would be to use the international mail system.

For direct mailing addresses of Foreign Service posts see State Department Publication 7877, Key Officers of Foreign Service Posts, which is available through the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at a cost of $1.75 per copy. This publication lists three possible mailing addresses for each post. If a post has an APO or FPO address it should be used. If a post does not have an APO or FPO address, either the pouch address (see example for Algiers above), or the international mail address: American Embassy, Consular Section, B.P.549 (Alger-Gare), Algiers, Algeria, may be used. Please note that mail sent through the Department of State pouch system may reach its destination less rapidly than mail sent via the international mail system. In addition, no registered or certified service is available via the pouch. The last four digits of the post zip code are included in the following list for the convenience of interested parties.

Immigrant Visa Waiting List Preference/Nonpreference Categories (as of January 1989)

The attached table shows the number of active immigrant applicants registered at consular offices abroad in the numerically limited preference/nonpreference categories subject to the 270,000 annual issuance limit set by Section 201(a) of the INA. Each foreign state is entitled to a maximum of 20,000 visa numbers per year, and a dependent area is limited to no more than 5,000 numbers. The figures below have been compiled from the annual reports of registrants submitted to the Visa Office by Foreign Service posts in January 1989.

Category	January 1989 Totals (and % of total registrants)	January 1988 Totals	Increase Over 1988 totals (and % of change)
First	27,785 (1.2%)	22,163	+ 5,622 (+ 25.4%)
Second	402,221 (17.3%)	379,735	+ 22,486 (+ 6.0%)
Third	32,660 (1.4%)	30,412	+ 2,248 (+ 7.4%)
Fourth	133,266 (5.7%)	121,716	+ 11,550 (+ 9.5%)
Fifth	1,469,231 (63.1%)	1,399,883	+ 69,348 (+ 5.0%)
Sixth	100,468 (4.3%)	76,562	+ 23,906 (+ 31.2%)
Nonpreference	162,848 (7.0%)	160,692	+ 2,156 (+ 1.3%)
Totals	2,328,479 (100%)	2,191,163	+ 137,316 (+ 6.3%)

During the past year the number of registrants in all categories increased. Note that the non-preference figures above do not include NP-5 registrations under Section 314 of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986.

The countries with the highest number of active registrants are listed below; these areas together represent 76.7% of the total:

Philippines	422,357
Mexico	403,523
India	201,554
Korea	142,220
China-mainland born	130,728
Vietnam	121,884
China-Taiwan born	97,425
Dominican Republic	54,679
Jamaica	53,457
Hong Kong	46,446
Pakistan	38,592
Guyana	36,643
El Salvador	36,304

First Preference

The first preference numerical limitation is 20% of the 270,000 worldwide annual preference immigrant limitation, i.e., 54,000. Most first preference numbers are unused and fall to the second preference. First preference visas are immediately available for applicants from all countries except one, Philippines. That country represents the major part of the first preference waiting list.

Foreign State	First Preference Total	Percent of Waiting List
Philippines	17,228	62%
Other Countries	10,557	38%
Total	27,785	100%

In recent years, Philippines first preference visa issuances have been limited to 4,000 visas annually by the per-country limitation and the terms of Section 202(e) of the INA.

Second Preference

The second preference limitation is 26% of 270,000, i.e., 70,200, plus the approximately 40,000 unused first preference numbers which fall into this category. Waiting list applicants in the second preference total 402,221. The three foreign states listed below have the greatest number of second preference applicants, and together they represent about 46% of the entire second preference waiting list. Because of heavy applicant demand, these three countries have earlier cut-off dates than other foreign states.

Foreign State	Second Preference Total	Percent of Waiting List
Mexico	76,522	19%
Philippines	71,497	18%
Dominican Republic	35,999	9%
Other Countries	218,203	54%
Total	402,221	100%

Third Preference

The third preference limitation is 10% of 270,000, or 27,000; no additional numbers fall down into this category. It should be noted that almost two-thirds of third preference immigrants are adjustment of status cases at INS offices. Cases being processed for adjustment by INS are not included in consular registration totals; therefore, the third preference waiting list significantly understates actual worldwide third preference immigrant demand.

Philippines third preference represents the majority of applicants on the waiting list; that is the only foreign state which has a third preference cut-off date earlier than the date for other countries. Philippines third preference has been held to 2,000 visas annually by the per-country limit and the terms of Section 202(e) of the INA.

Foreign State	Third Preference Total	Percent of Waiting List
Philippines	17,858	55%
Other Countries	14,802	45%
Total	32,660	100%

Fourth Preference

The fourth preference numerical limitation is 10% of 270,000, or 27,000. Fourth preference visas are immediately available for applicants from all foreign states except Philippines and Mexico. Those countries represent 80% of the fourth preference waiting list.

Foreign State	Fourth Preference Total	Percent of Waiting List
Philippines	67,705	51%
Mexico	39,191	29%
Other Countries	26,370	20%
Total	133,266	100%

Philippines and Mexico fourth preference issuances are limited by the per-country annual limit.

Fifth Preference

Waiting list applicants in the fifth preference total 1,469,231. Fifth preference is entitled by law to 24% (64,800) of the 270,000 annual limit plus any numbers which may be unused by the higher preferences. Because of the very heavy demand concentrated in this category, the wait for a visa is generally longer than in any other preference. The oversubscribed chargeabilities listed below have the largest number of fifth preference applicants, and together they represent about 54% of the total fifth preference waiting list.

Foreign State	Fifth Preference Total	Percent of Waiting List
Philippines	235,675	16%
India	185,564	13%
Mexico	147,914	10%
Korea	118,228	8%
China-mainland born	111,738	7%
All Other Countries	670,112	46%
Total	1,469,231	100%

Sixth Preference

The sixth preference limitation is 10% of 270,000, or 27,000; no additional numbers fall down into this category. Listed below are the countries with the highest total of sixth preference registrants.

Foreign State	Sixth Preference Total	Percent of Waiting List
El Salvador	13,924	14%
Philippines	11,803	12%
Mexico	10,658	11%
Korea	7,566	7%
Other Countries	56,517	56%
Total	100,468	100%

Dependent Area Limitation: Note that in several of the preferences, cut-off dates earlier than the worldwide dates apply to Hong Kong, the only oversubscribed dependent area. Hong Kong has not been mentioned in the comments above on the various preferences, since it is subject to a lower annual limitation (5,000) than that which applies to independent states (20,000).

Note on Compiling of the Waiting List Totals

It should by no means be assumed that once an applicant is registered on the waiting list, the registration is then continually included in the waiting list totals unless and until a visa is issued. In fact, cases which are identified as unlikely to result in visa issuance are excluded from the waiting list count. If, for example, a consular post receives no response from an applicant to whom visa application instructions are sent when the movement of the visa availability cut-off date indicates that a visa may become available within a reasonable time frame, the case is considered "inactive" under the consular procedures and is no longer included in waiting list totals.

The waiting list is not simply a count of every case on file, but only of those on which visa action is considered a reasonable possibility. The consular procedures mandate a regular culling of visa waiting list cases to remove from the count those unlikely to see further action, so that waiting list totals are not unreasonably inflated.
